WON'T WORK ON FARMS.

Boston.—The government suspended the literacy test of the Burnett immigration law and admitted 250 Portuguese from Cape Verde Islands but these immigrants have refused to work on farms. They came here, they say, to work in munitions factories for $3 and $4 a day, and if they don't get those jobs—no farm life for them.
 In the meantime the Portuguese are guests of Uncle Sam.

WANT 48-HOUR WEEK.

Philadelphia.—Wool and Carpet Yarn Workers' Union No. 825, the largest affiliate of the United Textile Workers, is demanding a 48-hour week. About 2,500 employees are involved, although suspension of work would be most far-reaching, as this is one of the basic branches of the textile industry.
